

Speculation as to Germany's Attitude.

London announces that The Exchange Telegraph Company, has received a message from Amsterdam to the effect that advices from Berlin state that the Vossische-Zeitung announces that high government circles in Germany favor submitting the questions arising out of the sinking of the Lusitania and the difficulties with America to a court of arbitration.

Some belief exists in official government circles and in the German Embassy, that the German Government will offer to arbitrate differences with America, and pending the arbitration that submarine warfare by Germany will be stopped if England will agree that Merchantmen shall sail unarmed thus affording an opportunity to search for contraband. No positive statement of the attitude of Germany is expressed by either United States government officials or the German embassy.

By Associated Press.

Rome, May 15.—Internal agitation continues in Italy. A strike has been called in Milan as a protest against the course of political events. The city is in the hands of the military.

The Tribuna, in a special edition today, denies the report that Italy had denounced the triple alliance. No pledge of any kind had been made, the Tribuna asserts, and a new cabinet will thus have complete liberty of action.

Riotous demonstrations increased in intensity when it became known that the king had accepted Premier Salandra's resignation. A violent outbreak occurred near the Austrian embassy. A window of the embassy was broken.

At a public meeting 20 speakers, most of them deputies, made addresses in favor of war.

When the people of Milan heard that the Salandra cabinet insisted on resigning 5,000 men and women protested with cries of "Death to Emperor William. Hurrah for war. Death to Emperor Francis Joseph."

Rome, May 15.—Signor Marcora, president of the Chamber of Deputies, requested by King Victor Emmanuel to form a new cabinet in succession to the Salandra ministry has refused the commission.

It is probable that the king will insist on Premier Salandra remaining in power.

London, May 15.—French troops have pushed back the German line 300 yards in the direction of Souchez the Paris War Office announced today.

The Russians report the shattering of the Austrian line near the Bukovina frontier, along a 60 mile front. This Russian claim, however, has not been confirmed from German or Austrian sources.

London, May 15.—The British public is coming to the belief that Italy has reached the point of a momentous decision in the matter of her relations to the tripple alliance. Recent events have left London breathlessly awaiting word from Rome of the final break with Austria and Germany.

Newspapers here all seem gratified with President Wilson's note to Germany, but regret is expressed that it should have contained a paragraph testifying to the belief of Germany's observance of humane rules of warfare in the past.

Observers here believe the Russian situation brighter, in spite of the fact that the Austro-German victory in West Galicia is becoming more and more obvious. Confidence is maintained in the Russian ability to deliver a counter stroke as shown in East Galicia and Bukovina.

The Germans are reported checked in the Baltic provinces.

REVOLUTION IN PORTUGAL

London, May 15.—A news agency dispatch received here from Madrid declares there has been received in the Spanish capital information of a grave revolutionary movement in Portugal.

One report is that a revolutionary committee is in control of the situation at Lisbon.

A dispatch to Reuters Telegram Company says it is reported in Madrid that Dr. Alfonso Costa, former premier of Portugal, has been assassinated in Lisbon.

GOVERNOR'S DECENTRALIZER BILL PASSED BY SMALL VOTE

The McDermott Liquor License Bill Gets Through at Early Hour Today by 63 to 53 Vote—Two-Day Filibuster Closed
When Final Vote is Reached—Senate
Concurs and Measure Now Awaits
Signature of Governor.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, May 15.—At 1:15 o'clock this morning the two days' and a night's filibuster of the House Democrats against the McDermott liquor license bill was broken and the administration "decentralizer" was passed. The bill went through by a vote of 63 to 53.

Representative Rover was the only one of the ten Cincinnati Republicans who stood with his party for the redemption of the party pledge to decentralize in the manner provided by the McDermott bill.

The Democratic filibuster had succeeded for two days because of the constitutional provision that a bill must be read on three separate days unless otherwise ordered by three-fourths of all the elected members.

It was broken by resort to holding the house in session until after midnight, which ushered in the third day.

The Democrats kept up obstructive tactics until the last, demanding roll calls, verifications of the roll call and offering amendments. The Republican lineup was followed, except for the nine Hamilton county members.

The long session to break the filibuster was forced by the Republicans rather than let the bill go over until next week.

One of the Cincinnati rapid transit bills was passed by the House today and it is expected that the other will be acted upon before adjournment is taken this afternoon.

Columbus, May 15.—(Bulletin)—The Senate concurred in the House amendments to the McDermott bill and it is now ready for the Governor's signature.

Columbus, May 15.—Recess late today until Monday was the plan of House and Senate leaders after the morning session of both houses today. Several days next week may be required to complete the session, leaders declared.

Ohio's chief executive and his supporters in the legislature won a signal victory when they forced through to final passage the McDermott liquor license law "decentralizer" in spite of the Hamilton county and minority filibuster.

50 AMERICANS STILL IN DANGER

Los Angeles, Cal., May 15.—Fifty American men are surrounded near Esperanza, Sonora, today by an overwhelming number of Yaqui Indians, according to advices received here by the owner of one of the large ranches in the Yaqui valley.

It is said the Villa force sent to aid the Americans is composed mostly of Yaquis who cannot be expected to fight their brothers besieging the Americans.

London, May 15.—The Exchange Telegraph Company has received the following message from Amsterdam:

"A telegram from Berlin states that the Vossische-Zeitung announces that high government circles in Germany favor the submission of the question of the Lusitania's sinking and the difficulties with America arising therefrom to a court of arbitration."

Washington, May 15.—A cablegram from Ambassador Gerard in Berlin, sent at 7 o'clock last night and reaching the State Department early today, stated that the ambassador had not then received the American note.

State Department officials expected further advices soon. Meanwhile officials sought to trace the note and hasten its delivery.

Having knowledge from Ambassador Page at Rome that the note was relayed from there yesterday afternoon on the Italian telegraph lines, officials felt assured that it surely would reach Ambassador Gerard today.

It is confidently expected that Germany will give the note immediate consideration and send her reply in about 10 days.

Although Count Von Bernstorff was still silent, friends of the German ambassador said he was pleased with the friendly character of the note and was confident that the controversy could be satisfactorily adjusted.

Neither the German Embassy nor the State Department today had any intimation as to the feeling in Berlin, but among well informed diplomats and officials belief existed that Germany's reply would afford a means of settlement through diplomacy.

It was thought not improbable that Germany would suspend submarine warfare while the diplomatic discussion was in progress, and might suggest that if the British government notified all its merchantmen to sail unarmed the right of visit and search would then be exercised to prevent contraband from reaching its destination.

Another suggestion which was regarded as not unlikely to be made by Germany was that the belligerents give assurance that no contraband be carried on passenger ships.

OFFICIALS FILE ANSWER TO RIGGS BANK CLAIMS

Washington, May 15.—Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams filed in the District Supreme Court today an answer to the injunction suit brought by the Riggs National Bank, charging them with conspiracy to wreck the institution. Their answer is a sweeping denial of all the bank's charges.

Both officials presented long affidavits that they did not combine nor conspire to injure the bank. Data is presented which would fill several small volumes.

Comptroller Williams charges that the bank has been guilty of improper practices. The bank later issued a statement taking issue with many of the allegations in the answer. It has loaned money to government officials and members of Congress, the bank statement declares, feeling credit should not be denied a person because he was a public official.

Mr. McAdoo states that Mr. Alles, vice president of the bank, five days before he resigned as assistant secretary of the treasury and took the oath as a director of the Riggs National Bank, deposited $2,990,000 of government funds in that institution.

In the bank's statement today it is declared that this money deposited by Mr. Alles was not taken from 18 the treasury, but was transferred from the National City Bank at the direction of Secretary Shaw.

CAN NOT RUN BOAT LINES

Washington, May 15.—The application of the Pennsylvania, New York Central and other railroads to retain ownership or continue operation of boat lines on the Great Lakes, despite the prohibition in the statement taking issue with many of the allegations in the answer. It has loaned money to government officials and members of Congress, the bank statement declares, feeling credit should not be denied a person because he was a public official.

DANISH BOAT TORPEDOED

London, May 15.—The Danish steamer Martha was torpedoed and sunk off Aberdeen this morning by a German submarine. Her crew of 18 was saved.

REPLY IS EAGERLY AWAITED

Washington, May 15.—With the publication of the text of the president's note to Germany, Washington at once turned its attention to attempts to anticipate the contents of Germany's reply.

One thing seems established definitely—that official Germany does not want war with the United States. How far the German government will be disposed to go, how great are the sacrifices she may be willing to make to avoid a rupture between the two governments, can not be stated, but it is certain that, whatever the form of her response to the president's note, its purpose will be toward that end. German quarter this week. "Germany is doing very well as it is."

There is positive indication, however, that Germany will by no means fully meet the wishes of the United States. What is now regarded as the strongest probability is that the German government will draft a note which will surpass all its previous efforts in its ingenious argument.

The chief proposal expected from Germany is a renewal of their suggestion that the United States bring about an abandonment of the German submarine program by inducing Great Britain to give up her attempt to keep food out of Germany. This has been the German position for two months, and there is reason to believe that Berlin will regard Mr. Wilson's note as a splendid opportunity to advertise their position.

South American delegates to the coming Pan-American financial conference here voiced their approval of the position taken by President Wilson in his note to Germany. While making it clear that what they said was their personal opinion and not to be taken as representative of the attitude of their governments, they united in expressing conviction that the public sentiment of their countries would approve the course of the United States.

PEACE MOVE IS LAUNCHED

Cleveland, May 15.—At the concluding session of the World Court congress here, the delegates expressed the opinion that the latest movement toward world peace, as expressed in the congress' idea of an international court of justice, has been launched toward a conclusion that is bound to be successful. Assurances have come from all sides, including representative men of the nations now at war, that support of the plan for a world court is sure to ensue, once the carnage in Europe has ended.

The future plans of the congress are: The winning over of public opinion in this country and abroad through the press and through the holding of conventions and conferences; the formation of a committee to secure action pledging this country to the plan for a world court of justice, and the outlining of a formal plan for a world's court by a commission selected from the committee of 100 of the congress.

A resolution was adopted continuing the committee of 100, which launched the present congress, with power to act in all future matters.

DON'T WANT TO GO BACK HOME

London, May 15.—A large number of Germans and Austrians over and under military age, and many women of these nationalities, with their children, besieged the American consulate to beg that the United States intervene and prevent their being sent back to their native countries under the new regulations announced in the house of commons by Premier Asquith. The applicants said they preferred internment in England to repatriation since they had lived in this country for years. Consul General Skinner took the statements of the applicants and promised to transmit them to the proper authorities.

BIG BUDGET IS THROUGH THE HOUSE

Columbus, May 15.—The house by unanimous vote passed the long budget, carrying $32,138,000 for the support of the state government for two years, beginning July 1, 1915. The only amendment adopted was at the instance of Dr. Ellis of Geauga, to continue between sessions the services of Assistant Clerk E. W. Hughes of the house at $1,830 for each year.

Chairman Reighard was applauded after telling of the purpose of the committee to care first for "the state's unfortunates," particularly to meet the demand for housing the feeble-minded, epileptics and insane, for which $1,600,000 was granted, and $1,000,000 to enlarge the facilities of the state educational institutions, and the revival of the project for a crippled children's hospital.

Mr. Reighard added that the payroll requests of the utilities commission had been cut $40,000 a year, board of administration $126,000, tax commission $12,800, banking department $17,000; the payroll of the state highway department had been cut from $99,000 to $21,000 without impairment of service and saving money to be used in building roads, and that the pay of liquor license commissioners had been reduced, caused a saving of $117,000. All told, $400,000 was cut off requests for salaries.

With the passage by the senate of the Hulsitt bill, putting the national and state tickets back into one column on the general election ballot, the administration's legislative program was boosted another notch toward completion. The bill was passed by the senate with a vote of 18 to 13. The Democratic minority lined up solidly against it.

Lovett Bill Lost.

The Anti-Saloon league suffered a reverse when, with a vote of 17 to 11, the senate defeated the Lovett bill. The object of the bill was to put to an end a method of raising campaign funds which, it was charged, the wet forces used in the last campaign. It was alleged that men engaged in the liquor business, in paying their bills, deducted from them a certain percentage which was turned into the wet campaign fund. The Lovett measure sought to prevent this practice. It had passed the house.

The Sprague congressional gerrymander bill was reported to the house calendar, with amendments, which do not change the political complexion of any district. The committee amendments transfer Wayne and Holmes, Democratic counties, from the proposed Fourteenth district to the proposed Thirteenth; transfer Marion from the Eighth to the Fourteenth; Morrow from the Thirteenth to the Fourteenth; Hapcock from the Fifth to the Eighth.

With the Democrats voting "no," the house concurred in senate amendments to the Fleming students' voting bill. The bill now goes to the governor for signature.

Senator Garver of Miami introduced a resolution asking the state agricultural commission and the governor to adopt a policy of a 25-cent admission to the state fair. The agricultural commission has authority to do so if it deems it advisable. The Garver resolution was referred to the agricultural committee.

Successful filibuster by the Democratic minority blocked efforts of the Republicans to put the McDermott bill, the administration saloon license decentralizer, to a vote in the house.

ITALIANS CLAMORING FOR BATTLE

Rome, May 15.—The resignation of the Salandra cabinet, which is regarded here as a triumph for the policy of Giovanni Giolitti, the ex-premier and leader of the neutralist party, has given such an impetus to the war fever throughout the country that Italy now faces the gravest situation since the beginning of the European war.

Open threats of revolution, unless war is decided upon, have been made in several of the important cities of Italy. Troops are on guard at all the strategic points in Rome, following pro-war demonstrations. Popular indignation against Signor Giolitti and his friends is assuming alarming proportions. Ex-Ministers Bertolini and Facta, who held portfolios in the last Giolitti cabinet, which went out of office in March, 1914, as well as Deputies Valenzani and Graziadei, were mobbed and beaten.

It is reported that the pope secretly received the Austrian and German representatives in farewell audience in view of the possibility of their having to make a hurried departure from Rome.

Reports from Milan, Florence, Naples and Genoa tell of pro-war demonstrations in those cities similar to those occurring here. It is evident that the Italian people are determined to impose their will on the ruler and hasten the declaration of war. The most imposing of these demonstrations was at Milan, well known as a revolutionary center.

Cabinet Crisis.

It is impossible to forecast in any definite manner what will be the solution of the cabinet crisis. The resignation of Premier Salandra and his ministers was entirely unexpected. It is believed that only two solutions are possible. Those who are in close touch with the sentiment in administration circles hold that King Victor Emmanuel must either decline to accept the resignation of the cabinet and further postpone the opening of parliament, or call upon Signor Giolitti to undertake the forming of a new cabinet, implying, of course, absolute neutrality on the part of Italy. Signor Giolitti is undoubtedly the most unpopular man in Italy, and for this reason it is expected that he will decline such an offer. Hence it is believed that Italy may follow the example of France at the opening of the war and entrust to a coalition cabinet the destinies of the nation in the present crisis.

Giolitti's friends assert that he has an absolute majority in the chamber of deputies and an overwhelming force with him in the senate. It is, however, admitted that after the bitter recriminations between the neutralists and the pro-war parties during the last month it would be impossible for Giolitti to form a cabinet which would have the support of the nation.

The garrison has been reinforced by 25,000 troops and Rome has been divided into four military zones for the purpose of putting down any attempt at a revolutionary outbreak. Enormous crowds paraded the streets and wrecked shops owned by Germans and attacked neutralists. The shops owned by followers of Giolitti have all been closed.

UNCLE JOE AT EIGHTY

San Francisco, May 15.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon's birthday celebration has been the biggest social event during the stay of the congressional delegation in Honolulu, according to passengers on the liner Sierra, just arrived here. Cannon was eighty years old on May 5. In honor of the occasion Honolulu officials held a luau, which is the most elaborate of native feasts. Nearly 1,000 people were present. "The entire party is having the time of their lives," said Congressman Dyer, who returned, "and I don't think anybody is enjoying it more than Uncle Joe. He has learned to eat poi with one finger, and once he attempted to hulu hulu. He spends half of the day in the surf."

TWO TRAIN RIDERS KILLED IN WRECK

St. Clairsville, O., May 15.—Two train riders are dead, two are seriously injured and six are missing as the result of a freight train wreck which occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Belmont, near here. The missing men, who were riding on the train, are believed to be buried under the wreckage of the fourteen steel cars which were piled up in front of the Belmont station. The known dead are James Hope, forty, of Jacksonville, and Alex Eckhart, forty, of Newark. Thomas Harris of Gloucester was internally injured and H. A. Lucas of Caledonia sustained a fractured arm. A broken drawbar is believed to have been the cause of the wreck. Twenty train riders are said to have been occupying one of the cars which was derailed.

REPLY IS EAGERLY AWAITED

Washington, May 15.—With the publication of the text of the president's note to Germany, Washington at once turned its attention to attempts to anticipate the contents of Germany's reply.

One thing seems established definitely—that official Germany does not want war with the United States. How far the German government will be disposed to go, how great are the sacrifices she may be willing to make to avoid a rupture between the two governments, can not be stated, but it is certain that, whatever the form of her response to the president's note, its purpose will be toward that end. "We have enough war now," was the way it was expressed in one

German quarter this week. "Germany is doing very well as it is."

There is positive indication, however, that Germany will by no means fully meet the wishes of the United States. What is now regarded as the strongest probability is that the German government will draft a note which will surpass all its previous efforts in its ingenious argument.

The chief proposal expected from Germany is a renewal of their suggestion that the United States bring about an abandonment of the German submarine program by inducing Great Britain to give up her attempt to keep food out of Germany. This has been the German position for two months, and there is reason to believe that Berlin will regard Mr. Wilson's note as a splendid opportunity to advertise their position.

South American delegates to the coming Pan-American financial conference here voiced their approval of the position taken by President Wilson in his note to Germany. While making it clear that what they said was their personal opinion and not to be taken as representative of the attitude of their governments, they united in expressing conviction that the public sentiment of their countries would approve the course of the United States.

PEACE MOVE IS LAUNCHED

Cleveland, May 15.—At the concluding session of the World Court congress here, the delegates expressed the opinion that the latest movement toward world peace, as expressed in the congress' idea of an international court of justice, has been launched toward a conclusion that is bound to be successful. Assurances have come from all sides, including representative men of the nations now at war, that support of the plan for a world court is sure to ensue, once the carnage in Europe has ended.

The future plans of the congress are: The winning over of public opinion in this country and abroad through the press and through the holding of conventions and conferences; the formation of a committee to secure action pledging this country to the plan for a world court of justice, and the outlining of a formal plan for a world's court by a commission selected from the committee of 100 of the congress.

A resolution was adopted continuing the committee of 100, which launched the present congress, with power to act in all future matters.

DON'T WANT TO GO BACK HOME

London, May 15.—A large number of Germans and Austrians over and under military age, and many women of these nationalities, with their children, besieged the American consulate to beg that the United States intervene and prevent their being sent back to their native countries under the new regulations announced in the house of commons by Premier Asquith. The applicants said they preferred internment in England to repatriation since they had lived in this country for years. Consul General Skinner took the statements of the applicants and promised to transmit them to the proper authorities.

BIG BUDGET IS THROUGH THE HOUSE

Columbus, May 15.—The house by unanimous vote passed the long budget, carrying $32,138,000 for the support of the state government for two years, beginning July 1, 1915. The only amendment adopted was at the instance of Dr. Ellis of Geauga, to continue between sessions the services of Assistant Clerk E. W. Hughes of the house at $1,820 for each year.

Chairman Reighard was applauded after telling of the purpose of the committee to care first for "the state's unfortunates," particularly to meet the demand for housing the feeble-minded, epileptics and insane, for which $1,600,000 was granted, and $1,000,000 to enlarge the facilities of the state educational institutions, and the revival of the project for a crippled children's hospital.

Mr. Reighard added that the payroll requests of the utilities commission had been cut $40,000 a year, board of administration $126,000, tax commission $13,800, banking department $17,000; the payroll of the state highway department had been cut from $99,000 to $21,000 without impairment of service and saving money to be used in building roads, and that the pay of liquor license commissioners had been reduced, caused a saving of $117,000. All told, $400,000 was cut off requests for salaries.

With the passage by the senate of the Hulswitt bill, putting the national and state tickets back into one column on the general election ballot, the administration's legislative program was boosted another notch toward completion. The bill was passed by the senate with a vote of 18 to 13. The Democratic minority lined up solidly against it.

Lovett Bill Lost.

The Anti-Saloon league suffered a reverse when, with a vote of 17 to 11, the senate defeated the Lovett bill. The object of the bill was to put to an end a method of raising campaign funds which, it was charged, the wet forces used in the last campaign. It was alleged that men engaged in the liquor business, in paying their bills, deducted from them a certain percentage which was turned into the wet campaign fund. The Lovett measure sought to prevent this practice. It had passed the house.

The Sprague congressional gerrymander bill was reported to the house calendar, with amendments, which do not change the political complexion of any district. The committee amendments transfer Wayne and Holmes, Democratic counties, from the proposed Fourteenth district to the proposed Thirteenth; transfer Marion from the Eighth to the Fourteenth; Morrow from the Thirteenth to the Fourteenth; Hapcock from the Fifth to the Eighth.

With the Democrats voting "no," the house concurred in senate amendments to the Fleming students' voting bill. The bill now goes to the governor for signature.

Senator Garver of Miami introduced a resolution asking the state agricultural commission and the governor to adopt a policy of a 25-cent admission to the state fair. The agricultural commission has authority to do so if it deems it advisable. The Garver resolution was referred to the agricultural committee.

Successful filibuster by the Democratic minority blocked efforts of the Republicans to put the McDermott bill, the administration saloon license decentralizer, to a vote in the house.

ITALIANS CLAMORING FOR BATTLE

Rome, May 15.—The resignation of the Salandra cabinet, which is regarded here as a triumph for the policy of Giovanni Giolitti, the ex-premier and leader of the neutralist party, has given such an impetus to the war fever throughout the country that Italy now faces the gravest situation since the beginning of the European war.

Open threats of revolution, unless war is decided upon, have been made in several of the important cities of Italy. Troops are on guard at all the strategic points in Rome, following pro-war demonstrations. Popular indignation against Signor Giolitti and his friends is assuming alarming proportions. Ex-Ministers Bertolini and Pacta, who held portfolios in the last Giolitti cabinet, which went out of office in March, 1914, as well as Deputies Valenzani and Grazziani, were mobbed and beaten.

It is reported that the pope secretly received the Austrian and German representatives in farewell audience in view of the possibility of their having to make a hurried departure from Rome.

Reports from Milan, Florence, Naples and Genoa tell of pro-war demonstrations in those cities similar to those occurring here. It is evident that the Italian people are determined to impose their will on the ruler and hasten the declaration of war. The most imposing of these demonstrations was at Milan, well known as a revolutionary center.

Cabinet Crisis.

It is impossible to forecast in any definite manner what will be the solution of the cabinet crisis. The resignation of Premier Salandra and his ministers was entirely unexpected. It is believed that only two solutions are possible. Those who are in close touch with the sentiment in administration circles hold that King Victor Emmanuel must either decline to accept the resignation of the cabinet and further postpone the opening of parliament, or call upon Signor Giolitti to undertake the forming of a new cabinet, implying, of course, absolute neutrality on the part of Italy. Signor Giolitti is undoubtedly the most unpopular man in Italy, and for this reason it is expected that he will decline such an offer. Hence it is believed that Italy may follow the example of France at the opening of the war and entrust to a coalition cabinet the destinies of the nation in the present crisis.

Giolitti's friends assert that he has an absolute majority in the chamber of deputies and an overwhelming force with him in the senate. It is, however, admitted that after the bitter recriminations between the neutralists and the pro-war parties during the last month it would be impossible for Giolitti to form a cabinet which would have the support of the nation.

The garrison has been reinforced by 25,000 troops and Rome has been divided into four military zones for the purpose of putting down any attempt at a revolutionary outbreak. Enormous crowds paraded the streets and wrecked shops owned by Germans and attacked neutralists. The shops owned by followers of Giolitti have all been closed.

UNCLE JOE AT EIGHTY

San Francisco, May 15.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon's birthday celebration has been the biggest social event during the stay of the congressional delegation in Honolulu, according to passengers on the liner Sierra, just arrived here. Cannon was eighty years old on May 5. In honor of the occasion Honolulu officials held a luau, which is the most elaborate of native feasts. Nearly 1,000 people were present. "The entire party is having the time of their lives," said Congressman Dyer, who returned, "and I don't think anybody is enjoying it more than Uncle Joe. He has learned to eat poi with one finger, and once he attempted to hulu hulu. He spends half of the day in the surf."

TWO TRAIN RIDERS KILLED IN WRECK

The missing men, who were riding on the wreckage of the fourteen steel cars which were piled up in front of the Belmont station. The known dead are James Hope, forty, of Jacksonville, and Alex Eckhart, forty, of Newark. Thomas Harris of Gloucester was internally injured and H. A. Lucas of Caledonia sustained a fractured arm. A broken drawbar is believed to have been the cause of the wreck. Twenty train riders are said to have been occupying one of the cars which was derailed.

What Will Germany Do?

Since the transmission of President Wilson's message to the German government, public attention is transferred to Berlin.

The position of this government having been officially announced, just what attitude the German government will assume is now the main subject of consideration and speculation.

President Wilson's note is clear, unequivocal and emphatic. Entirely lacking braggadocio or threats, friendly yet positive. The course pursued by German authorities on the seas is condemned. The loss of American lives consequent to the sinking of the British steamships Falaba and Lusitania, and the American ship Gulfight by German submarines is denounced as unwarranted. Prompt apology and reparation for these wrongs committed against American citizens is demanded.

With the events that are past, there is not so much danger of serious disagreement between the two governments. It is with the demands which this government makes upon Germany for the future that disagreement must come, if at all. President Wilson makes it clear that the German government must, very materially, modify its present methods of sea warfare—methods which have precipitated the present crisis.

The Berlin government is called upon to guarantee that in the future, unarmed vessels will not be torpedoed by German submarines unless they carry contraband of war and then only after search and passengers and crew have been removed to places of safety.

In demanding this guarantee of Germany, this government is sustained by every rule of international law and by every principal of humanity.

Germany has never claimed that its present code of warfare was upheld by international law or by any established precedent. Justification for the conduct of the naval forces which has resulted in a slaughter of non-combatants never before equalled in civilized warfare, is based entirely upon necessity.

For Germany to accede to the demands of this government means a complete change in the present methods of sea fighting and the adoption of rules and the recognition of rights and privileges entirely at variance with the present and past attitude of that government.

Many men of prominence announce the opinion that Germany's reply will be either a refusal to comply with the demands, or an attempt, by evading the issue, to prolong diplomatic discussions, in the meanwhile adhering to present methods.

It is not likely that this government will tolerate any evasion or endure any delay. Neither is it likely that this government will modify its demands in any material particular.

President Wilson has spoken for one hundred million Americans. The demand that piratical warfare must stop, at least insofar as it imperils the lives of neutrals, is clear and Germany must comply with that demand promptly.

War with Germany is not probable, even though the guarantee demanded is not forthcoming, but decisive and effective action of some nature is assured.

In forwarding a demand so positive, the president undoubtedly was prepared to meet, and to meet fairly, a situation which would result in the event an attitude of non-compliance was assumed by Germany.

Straw Hat Time Is Here

Today is May fifteenth, the day which custom and style have decreed to be the beginning of that season of the year when it is proper to wear straw hats.

It was not so very long ago regarded as "too soon" to put on a straw hat prior to the first day of June, but day by day the leaders of fashion began to anticipate the acknowledged opening day of the season by wearing their straw lids in advance of June first.

So general was the fudging indulged in by the fashionable wags that the beginning of the season for straw lids was advanced to May fifteenth.

Beginning today, therefore, it is perfectly proper and seasonable too, because it is the decree of fashion, to toss the felt hat in the old clothes press and shine forth in the new straw. No matter what the weather conditions are today or tomorrow, it is proper to wear straw hats.

The designers and makers of straw hats, with an eye to business, have made such radical changes in shapes that it is really necessary to buy a new hat this season if one would be strictly in fashion. This year the crowns are higher, the rims narrower than last and come nearer than any change in recent years in producing the desired result—making the last season's straw hat look like a last year's bird's nest.

Poetry For Today

MAY DAYS.

Who can think of lilacs blowing
And not have sweet thought of going
Far beyond the city call?
Who can hear a robin trilling
And not sense an instant thrilling
Of the pulses to the call?

Who can breathe the soft air fragrant
With rose scents, and feel no vagrant
Spirit tugging at his feet?
To come far from things that fret
him
Where no worries can beset him—
To some halcyon retreat?

Who can do his work serenely
When the trees are luring greenly
To a forest cool and dim?
When all spring is archly wooing,
Softly billing, gently cooing
To the inmost heart of him?

Who, with every sense a-quiver
For the woods, the hills, the river—
By their witchery beguiled—
Could wait longer than next pay day
To hike out into the May day
And go trysting with the wild?

The columns of the newspapers all over the country give ever increasing evidence that women are coming into their own whether that is to stop short of the ballot or not. Not to mention the old order of church and charity and sewing parties, women are active in multifarious ways for social betterment. "Friendly" clubs, "get together" clubs, "social service" leagues are among the local societies which do not appeal to any special class, but find their life and inspiration among women. Unconsciously it may be women are getting a practical knowledge of the routine of assemblies which will prepare them for all duties which progress may allot to them.

Just at this time an efficient quarantine station at the port of New York is of vital importance. Conditions in Europe tend to the spread of epidemic diseases and the infection of immigrants. Whether the New York station shall remain under state control or be transferred to the federal health service is a local matter; but, change or no change, its condition should be such as will at once inspire the confidence of the nation and not disappoint that confidence. Now, when immigration is light, is a good time for house-cleaning at the outer gate.

Most men imagine that women dress to please the men, but they are wrong. Women dress to displease other women.

Any old time a man is generous to a fault it is usually one of his own faults. The average man is so consistent that he will stand around and tell lies all night and then want to fight if anybody calls him a liar.

Since the transmission of President Wilson's message to the German government, public attention is transferred to Berlin.

The position of this government having been officially announced, just what attitude the German government will assume is now the main subject of consideration and speculation.

President Wilson's note is clear, unequivocal and emphatic. Entirely lacking braggadocio or threats, friendly yet positive. The course pursued by German authorities on the seas is condemned. The loss of the British steamships Falaba and Lusitania, and the American ship Gulflight by German submarines is denounced as unwarranted. Prompt apology and reparation for these wrongs committed against American citizens is demanded.

With the events that are past, there is not so much danger of serious disagreement between the two governments. It is with the demands which this government makes upon Germany for the future that disagreement must come, if at all. President Wilson makes it clear that the German government must, very materially, modify its present methods of sea warfare—methods which have precipitated the present crisis.

The Berlin government is called upon to guarantee that in the future, unarmed vessels will not be torpedoed by German submarines unless they carry contraband of war and then only after search and passengers and crew have been removed to places of safety.

In demanding this guarantee of Germany, this government is sustained by every rule of international law and by every principal of humanity.

Germany has never claimed that its present code of warfare was upheld by international law or by any established precedent. Justification for the conduct of the naval forces which has resulted in a slaughter of non-combatants never before equalled in civilized warfare, is based entirely upon necessity.

For Germany to accede to the demands of this government means a complete change in the present methods of sea fighting and the adoption of rules and the recognition of rights and privileges entirely at variance with the present and past attitude of that government.

Many men of prominence announce the opinion that Germany's reply will be either a refusal to comply with the demands, or an attempt, by evading the issue, to prolong diplomatic discussions, in the meanwhile adhering to present methods.

It is not likely that this government will tolerate any evasion or endure any delay. Neither is it likely that this government will modify its demands in any material particular.

President Wilson has spoken for one hundred million Americans. The demand that piratical warfare must stop, at least insofar as it imperils the lives of neutrals, is clear and Germany must comply with that demand promptly.

War with Germany is not probable, even though the guarantee demanded is not forthcoming, but decisive and effective action of some nature is assured.

In forwarding a demand so positive, the president undoubtedly was prepared to meet, and to meet fairly, a situation which would result in the event an attitude of non-compliance was assumed by Germany.

Straw Hat Time Is Here

Today is May fifteenth, the day which custom and style have decreed to be the beginning of that season of the year when it is proper to wear straw hats.

It was not so very long ago regarded as "to soon" to put on a straw hat prior to the first day of June, but day by day the leaders of fashion began to anticipate the acknowledged opening day of the season by wearing their straw lids in advance of June first.

So general was the fudging indulged in by the fashionable swells that the beginning of the season for straw lids was advanced to May fifteenth.

Beginning today, therefore, it is perfectly proper and seasonable too, because it is the decree of fashion, to toss the felt hat in the old clothes press and shine forth in the new straw. No matter what the weather conditions are today or tomorrow, it is proper to wear straw hats.

The designers and makers of straw hats, with an eye to business, have made such radical changes in shapes that it is really necessary to buy a new hat this season if one would be strictly in fashion. This year the crowns are higher, the rims are narrower than last and come nearer than any change in recent years in producing the desired result—making the last season's straw hat look like a last year's bird's nest.

Poetry For Today

MAY DAYS.
Who can think of lilacs blowing
And not have sweet thought of going
Far beyond the city call?
Who can hear a robin trilling
And not sense an instant thrilling
Of the pulses to the call?

Who can breathe the soft air fragrant
With rose scents, and feel no vagrant
Spirit tugging at his feet?
To come far from things that fret
him
Where no worries can beset him—
To some halcyon retreat?

Who can do his work serenely
When the trees are luring greenly
To a forest cool and dim?
When all spring is archly wooing,
Softly billing, gently cooing
To the inmost heart of him?

Who, with every sense a-quiver
For the woods, the hills, the river—
By their witchery beguiled—
Could wait longer than next pay day
To hike out into the May day
And go trysting with the wild?

The columns of the newspapers all over the country give ever increasing evidence that women are coming into their own whether that is to stop short of the ballot or not. Not to mention the old order of church and charity and sewing parties, women are active in multifarious ways for social betterment. "Friendly" clubs, "get to gether" clubs, "social service" leagues are among the local societies which do not appeal to any special class, but find their life and inspiration among women. Unconsciously it may be women are getting a practical knowledge of the routine of assemblies which will prepare them for all duties which progress may allot to them.

Just at this time an efficient quarantine station at the port of New York is of vital importance. Conditions in Europe tend to the spread of epidemic diseases and the infection of immigrants. Whether the New York station shall remain under state control or be transferred to the federal health service is a local matter; but, change or no change, its condition should be such as will at once inspire the confidence of the nation and not disappoint that confidence. Now, when immigration is light, is a good time for housecleaning at the outer gate.

Most men imagine that women dress to please the men, but they are wrong. Women dress to displease other women. Any old time a man is generous to a fault it is usually one of his own faults. The average man is so consistent that he will stand around and tell lies all night and then want to fight if anybody calls him a liar.

There would be more prosperity in this country if every man knew as much about his own business as he knows about the other fellow's.

Somewhere or other a man seldom gets any pleasure out of a thing that doesn't separate him from some of his money.

An old maid's idea of a hog is a widow who manages to cop out a second husband.

There wouldn't be so many divorces in this country if the girls would devote the time to the kitchen range that they devote to the vocal range.

A single man has to go out hunting trouble, but a married man can go home and find it waiting for him.

The reason why daughter can always tell what is wrong with the spark plug when she is out in a machine is because she hasn't enough mechanical genius to wash dishes when she is at home.

A man will believe you if you tell him that Jonah swallowed the whale, but if he sees a sign that says "Fresh Paint" he is from Missouri right away. Why is it that most of the fellows who were champion spellers at school are now working for $100 a month, and why is it that most of the fellows who had to look it up in the dictionary are getting $10,000 a year?

Some men imagine that they are optimists because they let their creditors worry about what they owe.

It doesn't take long to tell a man just what you think of him, but it sometimes takes quite awhile to recover.

VOTES FOR WOMEN WILL BE SOUGHT BY LOCAL BRANCH

WELL KNOWN WOMAN SUFFRAGE WORKERS HOLD MEETING HERE AND ORGANIZATION WILL BE PERFECTED IN NEAR FUTURE. MANY LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND LECTURES GIVEN BY ORGANIZERS.

The Equal Suffrage movement in this city was actively promoted and established upon a working basis at the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. tea room Friday afternoon. In response to invitations issued by a half dozen prominent local club women.

There was a good representation in attendance and the two speakers, Miss Zada du Pont, vice president of the Ohio Equal Suffrage Organization, and Miss Elizabeth J. Houser also connected with the suffrage headquarters in Columbus, ably presented the suffrage movement and the reasons why women should have a voice in the affairs of state and nation.

The arguments and enthusiasm of the speakers aroused sympathetic response and drew forth expressions from a large number of the women present.

It was decided to organize a local suffrage society and Mrs. Frank M. Kennedy, Mrs. P. J. Henness and Mrs. Nye Gregg were appointed as members of a nominating committee to plan for an election in the near future.

Considerable suffrage interest in Washington has lain dormant for some time, only waiting for the spark to kindle it to activity, and that spark was supplied by the live speakers of the afternoon.

Mrs. Alice Taggart, of Jeffersonville, was the only guest from out of town.

MAYOR COFFEY STATES POSITION

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF WASHINGTON BRIEFLY OUTLINES HIS REASONS FOR POSITION ASSUMED DURING HIS ADMINISTRATION AND MAKES SOME PERTINENT GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.

Mayor Charles F. Coffey, who recently cast his hat into the mayoralty ring for re-election at Washington's chief executive, in discussing, Saturday, matters pertinent to his administration with an interviewer, made, among others, the following statements:

"Persons not familiar with the requirements of the mayor's duties are often led to false conceptions," said the mayor, "and if certain of my acts have been criticised I accept the support of the criticism as due mainly to this lack of knowledge.

"People have various views of the doings of an executive, even as they maintain various faiths and conceptions of legal or social matters with which they are not thoroughly acquainted, and, when brought to a clear understanding of those matters, it is to find, usually, that there are conditions and circumstances that would perhaps not warrant the views they have previously held.

"For instance, there are those who believe that too much leniency has been shown to offenders in my court. In support I would say that there has been no clemency shown where it was not deserved. On the other hand, let me state, I have not failed to show leniency to the prisoner where I have had every reason to believe that he was not wholly responsible, or where I have felt that such leniency would spare the misguided offender the degradation and despair of imprisonment when another chance would make him a benefit instead of a menace to society.

"There are others who, disregarding what has already been done for the betterment of the city in the way of suppressing and punishing vice, maintain that it still exists and are impatient with the administration because it is not obliterated. They do not take into account that these alleged offenders would be naturally constantly on the alert for police interference, and would just as naturally employ every possible means to cover their tracks. If these same people know that such things exist the administration would be only too glad to accept their assistance. It is not within the power the of a few men to arrest permanently the illegal operations of many who are alert to such efforts. History will show that.

"But it is possible to accomplish a great deal along this line and I feel that we have accomplished a great deal.

"As to the police openly countenancing illegal operations, the suggestion is absurd, and I am sure it is not entertained by clear thinking citizens."

CHAINED ELEPHANT A DANGEROUS BRUTE

Word from Troy, where the Robinson Show exhibited Friday, states that the big elephant, upon whose front feet a chain was kept at all times, had killed two horses the past week, and was still manifesting an ugly temper.

The animal was second in the herd of elephants in the parade, and bore every evidence of being a really dangerous fellow. Great scars about his ears and head indicated ugly wounds presumably made while he was on a rampage.

In a fall from the door-step, Friday afternoon, Mrs. Mary Vance, aged 88 years, a well known citizen of Madison Mills and grandmother of County Recorder T. E. Brown, sustained a very serious fracture of the left leg below the thigh.

As a result of the injury Mrs. Vance will be confined to her home for months.

"BEGINNERS' DAY"

IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

"Beginners Day" drew fifty little five year olds who will enter the public schools next fall, to Miss Anna Bell's primary grade Friday afternoon, to enjoy a short program prepared by the pupils.

The little visitors had such a good time that they can hardly wait for the fall term to open. Each one received pretty kindergarten gifts.

Miss Bell's pupils had made for them lanterns and big butterflies. Miss Haines' pupils made each a May basket; Miss Pinkerton's hand painted "Bo Peeps" and Miss Culhan's pupils presented jumping jacks of their own make.

CHAINED ELEPHANT A DANGEROUS BRUTE

Word from Troy, where the Robinson Show exhibited Friday, states that the big elephant, upon whose front feet a chain was kept at all times, had killed two horses the past week, and was still manifesting an ugly temper.

The animal was second in the herd of elephants in the parade, and bore every evidence of being a really dangerous fellow. Great scars about his ears and head indicated ugly wounds presumably made while he was on a rampage.

Miss Bell's pupils had made for them lanterns and big butterflies; Miss Haines' pupils made each a May basket; Miss Pinkerton's hand painted "Bo Peeps" and Miss Culhan's pupils presented jumping jacks of their own make.

CHOP ROAST BIG SUCCESS

The Ladies Gym Class wound up the season with a "Chop Roast" at Hegler's field on S. Main street Friday night.

There have been some great times in the "gym" class, but nothing to come up to that roast!

A huge fire had been built early in the day and ashes and embers were just right for roasting potatoes and chops. The gym members brought all kinds of things for a picnic supper with them, chops, weiners, and potatoes, and the supper was spread on the ground all around the fire.

There was great fun in the roast- ing stunt and the outdoor air whet- ted appetites to make the supper doubly enjoyed.

After supper fresh logs were thrown on the fire. As they crack- led merrily and blazed into flame everybody gathered round them in a semi-circle and spent a delightful hour in the warmth of the fire's glow singing old-time songs, led by Mrs. Welter Shoop.

Miss Clara Thurston, president, made a short talk, expressing fervently the regret of the class over the approaching departure of Mr. J. W. McClung, Y. M. C. A. physical di- rector, and a very deep appreciation for his splendid work, hoping that it will continue along lines promot- ed by him and of which he is most desirous.

Mr. McClung responded, express- ing his pleasure in the evening's meeting together and appreciation of the good will of the class. He urged the continuance of the work and hop- ed for its success.

When the public exhibition of the Ladies' Gym Class, showing the results of the past two years' gym- nastic work, are remembered the public will share in the regret that is felt by the class in losing Mr. McClung.

Hearty applause followed both speeches. Volley ball and a tug of war added amusement to the jolly even- ing.

The success of the picnic was largely due to the efforts of Miss Emily Tanzey, Miss Myrtle McCoy, Mr. J. W. McClung and Harold Hays. The latter two prepared the fire and willow-wands for roasting.

The gym class will have tennis, swimming and volley ball for the summer term. Any desiring to en- ter the classes may notify the sec- retary, Miss Emily Tanzey, within the next two weeks. The price for ladies is $2 for the entire term.

BASE FINISHED TO NEAR RAWLINGS

The concrete base on the North street paving job has been complet- ed to a point between Paint street and Rawlings street, or a distance of nearly five squares, and next week it is expected that the entire base will be completed and that several squares of the brick will be laid.

The work of laying brick was stop- ped south of Court street, early in the week, and was not resumed.

O. N. G. MAY CAMP NEAR NEFF GROUNDS

If present plans do not fall the National Guardsmen may camp at Yellow Springs, this year, near the famous Neff Grounds.

A movement has been on foot for three weeks to secure the encamp- ment at that place, but many of the residents have registered objection. However the objections are diminish- ing rapidly, and within a short time it is believed the grounds will be de- cided upon and contracts closed ac- cordingly.

Several thousand of the Guards- men are expected to be in the camp. As the camp will be a short dis- tance from Clifton, large numbers of persons are expected to flock to that place during the week the troops are there.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES TO RECEIVE LETTERS

Track—Gregg, Duff, Johnson.
Several of the girls are to receive basketball letters. Their names have not been announced.

CENTRAL KEEPS UP ITS LOSING STREAK

Central school seems determined to clinch its position at the bottom of the average column of the Intercho- lastic league. Friday Central lost again to Cherry Hill. The score was 5 to 2 and the game decidedly Cher- ry Hill's from the start. Central now has lost five out of six games.

Buchanan and Willis comprised the Cherry Hill battery and Green and Schwartz were on the firing line for the Centrals. Buchanan's pitch- ing and Boots' home run were fea- tures. Boylan umpired. The next game of the league will be Tuesday, between Cherry Hill and Sunnyside.

The Ladies Gym Class wound up the season with a "Chop Roast" at Hegler's field on S. Main street Friday night.

There have been some great times in the "gym" class, but nothing to come up to that roast!

A huge fire had been built early in the day and ashes and embers were just right for roasting potatoes and chops. The gym members brought all kinds of things for a picnic supper with them, chops, weiners, and potatoes, and the supper was spread on the ground all around the fire.

There was great fun in the roasting stunt and the outdoor air whetted appetites to make the supper doubly enjoyed.

After supper fresh logs were thrown on the fire. As they crackled merrily and blazed into flame everybody gathered round them in a semi-circle and spent a delightful hour in the warmth of the fire's glow singing old-time songs, led by Mrs. Welter Shoop.

Miss Clara Thurston, president, made a short talk, expressing fervently the regret of the class over the approaching departure of Mr. J. W. McClung, Y. M. C. A. physical director, and a very deep appreciation for his splendid work, hoping that it will continue along lines promoted by him and of which he is most desirous.

Mr. McClung responded, expressing his pleasure in the evening's meeting together and appreciation of the good will of the class. He urged the continuance of the work and hoped for its success.

When the public exhibition of the Ladies' Gym Class, showing the results of the past two years' gymnastic work, are remembered the public will share in the regret that is felt by the class in losing Mr. McClung.

Hearty applause followed both speeches. Volley ball and a tug of war added amusement to the jolly evening.

The success of the picnic was largely due to the efforts of Miss Emily Tanzey, Miss Myrtle McCoy, Mr. J. W. McClung and Harold Hays. The latter two prepared the fire and willow-wands for roasting.

The gym class will have tennis, swimming and volley ball for the summer term. Any desiring to enter the classes may notify the secretary, Miss Emily Tanzey, within the next two weeks. The price for ladies is $2 for the entire term.

BASE FINISHED TO NEAR RAWLINGS

The concrete base on the North street paving job has been completed to a point between Paint street and Rawlings street, or a distance of nearly five squares, and next week it is expected that the entire base will be completed and that several squares of the brick will be laid.

The work of laying brick was stopped south of Court street, early in the week, and was not resumed.

ASKS ALIMONY

Mary Alice Taylor has filed suit against Harry C. Taylor, of near Waterloo, asking for alimony. The parties were married at Frankfort, June 12, 1913. Gross neglect of duty is charged.

O. N. G. MAY CAMP NEAR NEFF GROUNDS

If present plans do not fall the National Guardsmen may camp at Yellow Springs, this year, near the famous Neff Grounds.

A movement has been on foot for three weeks to secure the encampment at that place, but many of the residents have registered objection. However the objections are diminishing rapidly, and within a short time it is believed the grounds will be decided upon and contracts closed accordingly.

Several thousand of the Guardsmen are expected to be in the camp. As the camp will be a short distance from Clifton, large numbers of persons are expected to flock to that place during the week the troops are there.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES TO RECEIVE LETTERS

Friday next will be Recognition Day at the High school, when the "W" will be awarded to all successful athletes of the season past. The awarding of letters will be held immediately after chapel Friday morning.

Among those receiving letters will be the following:

Football—Pine, Moore, Craig, McDonald, Ross, Boylan, Kerr, Mayer, Ferguson, Strevey, Wetzel.

Basketball—Johnson, Gregg, Strevey, Lloyd, Burnett.

Track—Gregg, Duff, Johnson. Several of the girls are to receive basketball letters. Their names have not been announced.

CENTRAL KEEPS UP ITS LOSING STREAK

Central school seems determined to clinch its position at the bottom of the average column of the Interscholastic league. Friday Central lost again to Cherry Hill. The score was 5 to 2 and the game decidedly Cherry Hill's from the start. Central now has lost five out of six games.

Buchanan and Willis comprised the Cherry Hill battery and Green and Schwartz were on the firing line for the Centrals. Buchanan's pitching and Boots' home run were features. Boylan umpired. The next game of the league will be Tuesday, between Cherry Hill and Sunnyside.

PRESIDENT TO REVIEW THE FLEET

Washington, May 15.—President Wilson today is on the Mayflower, bound for New York, where he will review the Atlantic fleet in the Hudson river the first of next week. The Mayflower is scheduled to arrive in New York Sunday evening. The president intends as far as possible to take a complete rest in the next few days. He will not return to Washington until Thursday unless some unforeseen development necessitates that he hurry here from New York by train. The present plan is for the Mayflower to leave New York Tuesday afternoon, making a two-day trip back to Washington.

SISTER: READ MY FREE OFFER!

I am a woman.
I know a woman's trials.
I know her need of sympathy and help.
If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill-health, if you feel unfit for household duties, social pleasures, or daily employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any man. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home at a cost of about 12 cents a week.
If you suffer from women's peculiar ailments causing pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging-down sensation, failing or displacement of pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or constipation and piles, painful or irregular periods, catarrhal conditions and discharges, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, fear of something evil about to happen, creeping feeling along the spine, palpitation, hot flashes, weariness, sallow complexion with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast, or a general feeling that life is not worth living.

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT and learn how these ailments can be easily and surely conquered at home without the dangers and expense of an operation. When you are cured, and able to enjoy life again, you can pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain how to overcome green sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women and restore them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember, it costs you nothing to give my home treatment a ten days' trial, and does not interfere with daily work. If health is worth asking for, then accept my generous offer and write for the free treatment, including my illustrated booklet, "Woman's Own Medical Adviser." I will send all in plain wrappers post-paid. To save time, you can cut out this offer, mark your feelings, and return to me. Send today, as you may not see this offer again. Address,

MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box H, SOUTH BEND, IND.

With the president on the Mayflower were his sister, Mrs. Howe; his niece, Mrs. Cochran, with her daughter, little Anna Cochran; Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the White House physician, and his private secretary, Mr. Tumulty.
The president's mind, according to his friends, has been eased immeasurably with the dispatch of the note to Germany, if for no other reason, by the fact that the strain of preparation of that document has been ended and the responsibility for the next move in this crisis placed on German shoulders rather than the president's own.

U. S. COLLIER IS FIRED ON

New York, May 15.—There was a report emanating from aboard one of the warships in the Hudson river that the U. S. S. Jupiter, an armed collier, was fired on by a British cruiser two or three nights ago. The report had it that the British cruiser fired this challenge shot at the Jupiter somewhere outside New York harbor and then hove to until her commander was satisfied that the Jupiter was a United States ship and not a German vessel. It transpired that the officers on Admiral Fletcher's flagship, the Wyoming, knew of this report of the Jupiter being fired on, but none of them would discuss it.

MET MURPHY BUT ONCE IN ALL HIS LIFE

Syracuse, N. Y., May 15.—As one who set himself against the howlings of the foolish and stood stout-hearted for correct principles, Mr. Barnes of Albany pictured himself at the libel trial here.

Turning from the friendly guidance of his attorney, Mr. Ivins, to an arduous attack by Mr. Bowers, Mr. Barnes' principal intent seemed to be to convince the jury that while he himself could lay claim to no such monopoly in righteousness as Colonel Roosevelt boasted, nevertheless he had been sufficiently upright for all human purposes.

Defending himself from the two main accusations left in the evidence, and which, as Justice Andrews notified all concerned, must go to the jury as questions of fact, Mr. Barnes declared that he had never met Charles F. Murphy of Tammany but once in his life; that he never had an agreement or understanding with Mr. Murphy to control the senatorial election of 1911, and that Mr. Loeb's testimony as to an admission by him of such an agreement was untrue.

Mr. Barnes denied having received campaign contributions from the late Anthony N. Brady or from other Democrats as individuals or as representatives of corporations. He insisted that he had never told Colonel Roosevelt that such bipartisan contributions were customary and necessary. He asserted that he did not fall out with Colonel Roosevelt until after the colonel made the "new nationalism" speech at Ossawatimie, Kan., in 1910.

GOV. WILLIS ON THE NOTE

Columbus, May 15.—Governor Willis made this comment on the president's note to Germany: "The thinking people of our country have awaited with judicial deliberation this announcement of policy by the president and will sustain him firmly in the position he has taken."

"The president sounded a note of decision and deliberate conviction which will be heard around the world. The American people, devoted as they are to peace among nations, will sustain the president in his decision."

OHIO BRIEFS

Two Men Missing.
Sandusky, O., May 15.—Fire which started from an explosion destroyed the Caswell garage here, containing more than forty automobiles. The loss is $120,000. Two tourists who tried to save their cars entered the garage and have not been seen since.

Editor Made Postmaster.
Galion, O., May 15.—M. V. Goshorn was notified of his appointment as postmaster of this city, to succeed George W. Nickels, whose term expires June 12. Mr. Goshorn is editor of the Gallion Inquirer and was clerk of the Ohio senate for four years.

Crushed by Falling Tree.
Waverly, O., May 15.—Charles Latt, sixty-one, a widower of Omega, was crushed to death by being caught under a tree which he had cut down. He had been dead several hours when his body was found.

AMERICAN SHIP STOPPED IN AZORES

Ponta Delgada, Azores, May 15.—The American schooner Camilla May Page was stopped 100 miles west of the Azores by a three funnel warship, resembling the Karlsruhe. The captain of the schooner was questioned by an officer with a German accent. The warship was not a British ship, the captain of the schooner is positive.

TO THE POINT

International cotton congress, which was to have been held in England this year, has been abandoned on account of the war.

Five men are dead at Atlanta, Ga., as a result of drinking wood alcohol, which they thought was plain alcohol and mixed it with sugar and water as a beverage.

The appellate division of the New York supreme court decided that it would not interfere with the plan to have Harry K. Thaw's mental status placed before a jury for determination.

BRITISH BULL DOG AROUSED

London, May 15.—The French, who already have gained possession of what was thought to be impregnable German positions to the north of Paris, are reported to be continuing their victorious advance, while the British are asserted to be holding a large force of Germans in their front and repulsing all German attempts to reach Ypres, which has proved the graveyard of so many thousands of men since the opposing lines were established there last autumn. The Germans claim to have made a slight advance, but with the battle ebbing and flowing, this is not considered serious in military circles here.

The Austro-Germans, after their lightning-like rush through western Galicia, have now reached a line running due north and south to the west of Przemyśl, while the other armies, emerging from the Carpathians, are pressing the Russian flank. Even up in Poland it is asserted that the victory of the Teutonic allies in the south has had the effect of forcing the Russians to fall back.

The greatest mistake is to become discouraged because you have made a mistake.

SPORT LETTER

Cincinnati, May 15, 1915.

The next three weeks are going to offer the real line on the comparative strength of the various teams in the two big leagues. For the first time this year the inter-sectional series in the two major organizations are on, the western National League teams now being in the East, while the Eastern American League teams are battling in the west.

The Reds, after a rather unsatisfactory visit to St. Louis and Chicago, are opening their eastern series under a further handicap, an injury to Manager Herzog in the Sunday game here placing him hors du combat for a week or ten days. However, there is reason to believe that the boys, fighting under a handicap, will return to the form they showed earlier in the campaign and will assist in dragging down the Phillies and keeping down the other eastern teams that, to date, have not cut a great deal of ice even in their own territory.

Manager Herzog has issued an ukase to the effect that from now on the scarcest line in the base ball reports in the National League will be the announcement: "Herzog was put out of the game for kicking." After some years of trying to win an argument over an umpire, and with the inevitable result that the umpire invariably received the blue ribbon, while Herzog drew nothing prettier than the can, the Red leader has declared, "Never again for me."

The Proposed Speedway.

Cincinnati business men are giving enthusiastic support to the project for building a half million dollar motor speedway in the immediate vicinity of this city. A goodly portion of the necessary capital stock has already been subscribed, and within the next few days the site for the new plant will be decided upon. There will be a two and one-half mile track, aviation field, oval for sports, polo field and other reservations, making this one of the most complete plants for outdoor sports in the world. It is proposed to hold the first race meeting this fall, and thereafter have Cincinnati as one of the cities of the big motor racing circuit, which will include Minneapolis, Chicago, Indianapolis and Detroit.

Betting in New York.

If you want to make a bet on a race on the New York tracks this summer you'll be compelled to call in a stockholder to record the wager. The system of verbal bets, which prevailed last year, has been tabooed by the New York stewards, who have now decreed that, in order to be strictly within the law, with no chance for a come-back, wagers must be recorded by a third party. It has not been decided whether the cash must be put up before the bet is recorded by the stakeholder but it is positive that immediately after the race is decided the loser must make good with the winner, via the third party. Some complication, what?

This Willard a Puzzle.

What sort of a world's champion heavyweight have we garnered in this man Jess Willard, anyway? Here he starts off by drawing the color line, after winning the championship from an African; and now he announces that he is tired of appearing on the stage, and will devote himself to doing cow-boy stunts with a circus as a means of getting further financial rake-off on his pugilistic honors. Willard, in one respect, differs mightily from his predecessors on the championship throne. He doesn't seem to care a great deal about capitalizing his prestige, but would rather go hunting out in California, or take on some other heavy in the near future, than stall along for months as a freak for the general public to gaze upon at so much per gaze.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Enlarged Tonsils.
Children who suffer from adenoids or enlarged tonsils are specially disposed to catarrh and asthma. They often become more or less deaf, even stupid look, but many so called "dunces" go to the top of the class quickly enough after a little operation which removes the trouble. Neglect of adenoids may result in total deafness, and the sooner a doctor is consulted the kinder in every way it is to the young sufferer.

Inquisitive Youth.
"My boy has the whooping cough."
"That must worry you."
"Well, maybe it's all for the best. When he's whooping he can't ask questions and I get time to read up on the inquiries he has already made."—Washington Star.

ARTILLERY DUEL WAS GREATEST IN WORLD

By Associated Press.

London, May 15.—"This is the greatest artillery battle in the history of the world; the expenditure of ammunition is fabulous," writes an observer from behind the British lines at Ypres, describing the fighting of April 25 and 26, which resulted in considerable gains for the Germans.

After describing the almost continuous cannonading that had been going on for two days, with literally thousands of guns in almost continual action, the observer suggests that the intensity of the firing may be judged by the fact that at one small bridge across the Yser twenty German guns fought eighteen English and French guns all night, until finally the German guns were silenced. "The French 75's," he notes, "were fired so rapidly that they sounded like an endless roll of thunder multiplied by a thousand."

Touching briefly on the Canadians' part in the battle, he says: "One of the most notable incidents of the battle was the work done by the Canadian supply column. Not a cartridge or shell was a second late in reaching the man behind the gun, and when the black fumes blew across a section of supply men and they fell, others rushed in and kept the fighting line replenished until the wind blew the fumes away."

Describing the artillery, fighting, the writer says: "As far as our glasses could carry, we could see the white bursts of shrapnel, the black bursts of the German giant guns, and the feathery floating clouds of anti-aircraft shells which broke in the reverberating dome of the sky, where both German and English aeroplanes soared. The old theory that shooting causes rain was disproved, for the sun shone brightly over the indescribable scene. The wind was so strong that the aeroplanes facing it made no headway, and standing into the wind in one place like kites, the British aeroplanes seemed as stationary as the top of the Eiffel Tower, directing presumably the British gunfire."

um and Bailey Status Horses.

Great interest is already being shown in this neighborhood and great crowds will no doubt go to Columbus for the biggest and most enjoyable holiday of the year. Every one is advised to get an early start in order to be there in time for the parade which starts promptly at 10 a. m., and which is said to eclipse anything of its kind ever before attempted in the history of circus business.

BIG CIRCUS

COMING THIS WAY SOON.

The Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth will exhibit at Columbus, on Monday, May 31 and this good news is being heralded everywhere by the many agents of this, the biggest and foremost amusement institution in the world. The Barnum and Bailey Circus has always been the largest that travels and this season the management has found it necessary to add many more cars to their trains in order to provide for the great equipment. It requires 85 double length railroad cars to transport the big show, 1280 people are employed, there are 700 horses, 40 elephants and a menagerie of 110 cages. 480 world famed artists take part in the greatest circus program this world has ever known.

A fitting introduction to the wonderful performance this year, is the presentation of the new, magnificent spectacular pageant, "Lallah Rookh" in which nearly 1000 characters take part.

In the circus proper, which is presented in three rings, four stages, the hippodrome and in the dome of the largest tent ever erected, 480 performers from every nation in the world take part and present a vast array of foreign features entirely new to America. A wonderful trained animal exhibition is given by the Marvelous War Elephants. Pallenberg's Wonder Bears, Madam Bradna's Angel Horses, Thaleros' Dogs, Ponies and Monkeys, and the Barn-

VALLERY TRAINING THIRTEEN STEPPERS

Oscar Vallery is training thirteen head at Sylvan Farm, Derby, Ohio, and his best work is a mile in 2:27, with Florence McKinney 2:08 1/4. Royal Cadet 2:13 1/4 is reported in better condition now than ever before in his life.

The pacer, Hot Ball 2:11 1/4, owned and trained by Vallery, is in splendid condition and Mr. Vallery thinks the son of Alcott will be a good horse this year. Hot ball made three starts last year, and while he was in the money each time, he did not win a race or equal his record which makes him eligible to the 2:13 classes this year.—Mt. Sterling Tribune.

LISTENS GOOD

Since there is nothing left but the substructure of the old Ohio and Erie Canal aqueduct over the Scioto river, the thought comes to us that it would furnish an excellent bridge for a traction line that would tap the best territory in Ohio, between Circleville and Washington C. H., and possibly Cincinnati, since the passenger trains of the C. A. & C. R. R. branch of the Pennsylvania lines are not run frequently enough to accommodate the twentieth century crowd.

A traction line through that section of the state following the Circleville and Washington turnpike would tap a section of this country through Williamsport, New Holland, Atlanta or via Darbyville and Derby to Dayton in which there would be no opposition. East of Circleville to Laurelville, would also place Circleville in touch with a territory which would naturally come here for trade.—Circleville Herald.

WHITTACRE BILL PASSED

By Associated Press.

Columbus, May 15.—The Senate today passed the Whittacre house bill, providing for one day's rest in seven, but added a number of exemptions which, Democratic senators protested, virtually nullified the bill.

Workmen in electric and power plants, brick or pottery kilns, hotels, restaurants and sugar refineries were excluded by Senate amendments.

DERNBURG TO LEAVE AMERICA

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 15.—Dr. Bernard Dernburg, often referred to as the unofficial spokesman of Emperor William in the United States, has made plans to leave the country of his own initiative within a short time.

It became known here today in official quarters that in view of the intimations that President Wilson and the cabinet were displeased with Dr. Dernburg's speeches justifying the sinking of the Lusitania, and some of his other public utterances, friends here have persuaded him to leave the United States.

Just when he would leave or where he would go was not made known, but it was believed Dr. Dernburg would sail for Cuba or Central America.

Our national progress will be emphasized by startling contrasts while the Liberty bell travels westward as a feature of our Panama canal jubilation. The bell illustrates a stage of primitiveness in which there was not only no prospect, but no dream of western empire, even much less of an ocean to ocean highway.

TWO GREAT INVENTORS.

Their Foresight Did Not Equal Their Ingenious Ability.

Not infrequently great inventors do not comprehend the significance of the thing they have produced. An interesting anecdote of two famous men of science whose foresight did not equal their inventive ability appears in Les Inventions Illustrees.

When Hertz first began to obtain satisfactory results from his now famous researches into the possibility of transmitting electric waves certain men of science suggested that some day similar vibrations might serve to transmit messages through space. Hertz laughed at the hypothesis and assured all comers that his experiments were for laboratories only. Now, after a few short years, it is hard to find a single issue of a daily paper that does not record some noteworthy example of the use of wireless telegraphy.

Levasor was the great engineer who sketched the automobile with such skill that his design has not been materially changed to this day. After Levasor accomplished his historic trip from Paris to Bordeaux and return at the dizzy speed of about fifteen miles an hour his admirers gave him a banquet. During the toasts one of them, stirred by the spirit of the occasion, rose and enthusiastically called on the assembly to drink to the approaching day when carriages should travel at the speed of sixty miles an hour. Levasor turned to his nearest neighbor and asked in a quick undertone, "Why is it that after every banquet some people feel called on to make fools of themselves?"

IRON IN WATER.

It Takes Only the Least Little Bit to Make Itself Felt.

Half a part per million of iron in water is detectable by taste, and more than four or five parts makes water unpalatable. In some mineral springs iron is the constituent which imparts a medicinal value to the water, but ordinarily it is undesirable. More than 2.5 parts per million in water used for laundering makes a stain on the clothes. Iron must be removed from water from which ice is made or a cloudy, discolored product will result. An iron content of over two or three parts per million in water used in the manufacture of paper will stain the paper.

Iron is harmful in water used for steaming, for it is in equilibrium with acids which inside the boiler become dissociated, with the result that free acids corrode the boiler plates the amount of iron carried in solution by most waters is so small that damage it does to steam boilers really amounts to little.

Waters having a high iron content have in some places, where they have been used as city supplies, caused immense amount of trouble and expense, for they favor the growth of crenothrix to such a degree that water pipes become clogged with iron sheaths of that organism. The removal of iron from water is something that has long been a problem of the United States Geological Survey.

Quits.

"Little Maudie would tell 'whopper' One day her aunt thought she ought to be cured of this habit, so she spoke seriously to the little maid, who promised to mend her ways.

To point the moral aunt told the tale of the shepherd boy who was always calling 'Wolf!' until no one could believe him. Then one day wolf really came and ate up all sheep.

"All the sheep?" interrupted Maudie. "Yes, every one of them," replied auntie decidedly.

"Every single one?"

Auntie nodded.

"Well," said Maudie slowly, "I don't believe you, and you don't believe me. So there!"—London Answers.

Food For Pundsters.

"I don't see how Fussleigh gets an enjoyment out of his food. He's dining, you know."

"Yes."

"He uses this new 'mathematical masticatory' system."

"Good gracious, what's that? Many chews to the mouthful?"

"No. He eats beans by the dozen, rice by the grain, fish by the pet and spaghetti by the yard."

"Does he seem better?"

"Measurably so."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Drink Plenty of Water.

A Roumanian scientist claims that any one can live to be 100 years old by drinking enough water. He declares he has discovered that old age is due to a decrease in the amount of water in the system and that Father Time may be checked by systematic water drinking during middle age.

Be satisfied with success in even the smallest matter and think that even such a result is no trifle.—Marcus Aurelius

ARTILLERY DUEL WAS GREATEST IN WORLD

By Associated Press.
London, May 15.—"This is the greatest artillery battle in the history of the world; the expenditure of ammunition is fabulous," writes an observer from behind the British lines at Ypres, describing the fighting of April 25 and 26, which resulted in considerable gains for the Germans.

After describing the almost continuous cannonading that had been going on for two days, with literally thousands of guns in almost continual action, the observer suggests that the intensity of the firing may be judged by the fact that at one small bridge across the Yser twenty German guns fought eighteen English and French guns all night, until finally the German guns were silenced. "The French 75's," he notes, "were fired so rapidly that they sounded like an endless roll of thunder multiplied by a thousand."

Touching briefly on the Canadians' part in the battle, he says: "One of the most notable incidents of the battle was the work done by the Canadian supply column. Not a cartridge or shell was a second late in reaching the man behind the gun, and when the black fumes blew across a section of supply men and they fell, others rushed in and kept the fighting line replenished until the wind blew the fumes away."

Describing the artillery fighting, the writer says: "As far as our glasses could carry, we could see the white bursts of shrapnel, the black bursts of the German giant guns, or the feathery floating clouds of anti-aircraft shells which broke in the reverberating dome of the sky, where both German and English aeroplanes soared. The old theory that shooting causes rain was disproved, for the sun shone brightly over the indescribable scene. The wind was so strong that the aeroplanes facing it made no headway, and standing into the wind in one place like kites, the British aeroplanes seemed as stationary as the top of the Eiffel Tower, directing presumably the British gunfire."

Great interest is already being shown in this neighborhood and great crowds will no doubt go to Columbus for the biggest and most enjoyable holiday of the year. Every one is advised to get an early start in order to be there in time for the parade which starts promptly at 10 a. m., and which is said to eclipse anything of its kind ever before attempted in the history of circus business.

VALLERY TRAINING THIRTEEN STEPPERS

Oscar Vallery is training thirteen head at Sylvan Farm, Derby, Ohio, and his best work is a mile in 2:27, with Florence McKinney 2:08½. Royal Cadet 2:13½ is reported in better condition now than ever before in his life.

The pacer, Hot Ball 2:11¼, owned and trained by Vallery, is in splendid condition and Mr. Vallery thinks the son of Alcott will be a good horse this year. Hot ball made three starts last year, and while he was in the money each time, he did not win a race or equal his record which makes him eligible to the 2:13 classes this year.—Mt. Sterling Tribune.

LISTENS GOOD

Since there is nothing left but the substructure of the old Ohio and Erie Canal aqueduct over the Scioto river, the thought comes to us that it would furnish an excellent bridge for a traction line that would tap the best territory in Ohio, between Circleville and Washington C. H., and possibly Cincinnati, since the passenger trains of the C. A. & C. R. R. branch of the Pennsylvania lines are not run frequently enough to accommodate the twentieth century crowd.

A traction line through that section of the state following the Circleville and Washington turnpike would tap a section of this country through Williamsport, New Holland, Atlanta or via Darbyville and Derby to Dayton in which there would be no opposition. East of Circleville to Laurelville, would also place Circleville in touch with a territory which would naturally come here for trade.—Circleville Herald.

WHITTACRE BILL PASSED

By Associated Press.
Columbus, May 15.—The Senate today passed the Whittacre house bill, providing for one day's rest in seven, but added a number of exemptions which, Democratic senators protested, virtually nullified the bill. Workmen in electric and power plants, brick or pottery kilns, hotels, restaurants and sugar refineries were excluded by Senate amendments.

DERNBURG TO LEAVE AMERICA

By Associated Press.
Washington, May 15.—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, often referred to as the unofficial spokesman of Emperor William in the United States, has made plans to leave the country of his own initiative within a short time.

It became known here today in official quarters that, in view of the intimations that President Wilson and the cabinet were displeased with Dr. Dernburg's speeches justifying the sinking of the Lusitania, and some of his other public utterances, friends here have persuaded him to leave the United States.

Just when he would leave or where he would go was not made known, but it was believed Dr. Dernburg would sail for Cuba or Central America.

Our national progress will be emphasized by startling contrasts while the Liberty bell travels westward as a feature of our Panama canal jubilation. The bell illustrates a stage of primitiveness in which there was not only no prospect, but no dream of western empire, even much less of an ocean to ocean highway.

TWO GREAT INVENTORS.

Their Foresight Did Not Equal Their Ingenious Ability.

Not infrequently great inventors do not comprehend the significance of the thing they have produced. An interesting anecdote of two famous men of science whose foresight did not equal their inventive ability appears in Les Inventions Illustres.

When Hertz first began to obtain satisfactory results from his now famous researches into the possibility of transmitting electric waves certain men of science suggested that some day similar vibrations might serve to transmit messages through space. Hertz laughed at the hypothesis and assured all comers that his experiments were for laboratories only. Now, after a few short years, it is hard to find a single issue of a daily paper that does not record some noteworthy example of the use of wireless telegraphy.

Levassor was the great engineer who sketched the automobile with such skill that his design has not been materially changed to this day. After Levassor accomplished his historic trip from Paris to Bordeaux and return at the dizzy speed of about fifteen miles an hour his admirers gave him a banquet. During the toasts one of them, stirred by the spirit of the occasion, rose and enthusiastically called on the assembly to drink to the approaching day when carriages should travel at the speed of sixty miles an hour. Levassor turned to his nearest neighbor and asked in a quick undertone, "Why is it that after every banquet some people feel called on to make fools of themselves?"

IRON IN WATER.

It Takes Only the Least Little Bit to Make Itself Felt.

Half a part per million of iron in water is detectable by taste, and more than four or five parts makes water unpalatable. In some mineral springs iron is the constituent which imparts a medicinal value to the water, but ordinarily it is undesirable. More than 2.5 parts per million in water used for laundering makes a stain on the clothes. Iron must be removed from water from which ice is made or a cloudy, discolored product will result. An iron content of over two or three parts per million in water used in the manufacture of paper will stain the paper.

Iron is harmful in water used for steaming, for it is in equilibrium with acids which inside the boiler become dissociated, with the result that the free acids corrode the boiler plates, by the amount of iron carried in solution by most waters is so small that the damage it does to steam boilers generally amounts to little.

Waters having a high iron content have in some places, where they have been used as city supplies, caused an immense amount of trouble and expense, for they favor the growth of crenothrix to such a degree that the water pipes become clogged with the iron sheaths of that organism. The removal of iron from water is something easy and sometimes very difficult—United States Geological Survey.

Quits.

"Little Maudie would tell 'whoppers.' One day her aunt thought she ought to be cured of this habit, so she spoke seriously to the little maid, who promised to mend her ways.

To point the moral auntie told the tale of the shepherd boy who was always calling "Wolf!" until no one could believe him. Then one day the wolf really came and ate up all the sheep.

"All the sheep?" interrupted Maudie. "Yes, every one of them," replied auntie decidedly.

"Every single one?"

Auntie nodded.

"Well," said Maudie slowly, "I don't believe you, and you don't believe me. So there!"—London Answers.

Food For Funsters.

"I don't see how Fussleigh gets any enjoyment out of his food. He's dying, you know."

"Yes."

"He uses this new 'mathematical masticatory' system."

"Good gracious, what's that?"

"No. He eats beans by the dozen, rice by the grain, fish by the pound and spaghetti by the yard."

"Does he seem better?"

"Measurably so."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Drink Plenty of Water.

A Roumanian scientist claims that any one can live to be 100 years old by drinking enough water. He declares he has discovered that old age is due to a decrease in the amount of water in the system, and that Father Time may be cheated by systematic water drinking during middle age.
